W. PARK EVANS, - - - Publisher and Proprietor.

Gleichen, Alberta, February 27, 1908.

Have you decided yet the best exhibit
you can make at the Dominion Exhibition in Calgary next July? If not get busy and make sure it will be a prize-winner.

Down at Magrath the people seem to be unaware of the fact that this is the "Plum Tree Belt" and that all kinds of small fruits grow luxuriantly in the Gleichen district. Magrath will discover this and many other facts before many months.

Harrowing commenced February 21st
in this district, and many of our farmers have been engaged in the work since.
This is the very best evidence of the weather in Sunny Southern Alberta.
Of course, we may expect our eastern friends to doubt this report, but our farmers are enjoying the benefits of the fact nevertheless.

The farmers of this district are going in more for hog raising this year than ever, owing to the fact that they have now learned by experience that it is one of the most profitable lines of business they can engage in. New settlers in this district will do well to profit by the experience of the older settlers.

The Calgary Daily Herald issued a thirty-page illustrated special number last Saturday entitled "Calgary the Metropolis of the Canadian West," which contains a mass of useful information of our nearest city, and should prove of immense benefit in making known that place and her business advantages and men. It is an edition that all Calgary should be proud of and the Herald is deserving of great credit for its enterprise in producing so excellent a number.

The Call has received a letter from a farmer in Illinois asking if a mistake was not made in reporting the shipment of range cattle for beef last month. We desire to say that the report was quite correct and there was no mistake whatever, as it was cattle from off the range that were shipped and they were not fed at any time. More, last week another shipment of range cattle for beef was made to Winnipeg. This, no doubt, appears a very remarkable statement to the Eastern farmer, where it is considered most cruel to leave cattle out on the pasture fields all winter, but he must take into consideration the weather of Sunny Alberta.

The Call is figuring on an extensive and vigorous campaign for the spring and summer to make the Gleichen district more widely known. We want to issue a better paper than ever and print upwards of 1000 copies each issue and circulate them near and far. To do this we ask for more advertising patronage, and prompt payment. For subscribers and advertisers who provide names and addresses of their friends we will mail

copies to them at two cents a copy.
This will not pay for the paper, postage and work of mailing, but it will help us do on a large scale that which we have been doing for nearly a year. At this rate you can send five copies each week for 10 cents or 50 copies for $1. The Call has been sending each week from 200 up to 700, and really you should help a little.

The Little American Girl

Strains of grief from the demented
love sick swain of Willow Hollow, Red Deer River.

The first time that I saw my dearest,
dear,
Was walking over the green;
With her sweet face and her good grace,
She is the fairest I've ever seen.
So my love she is gone, she is gone
away

I heard Tom Evans say;
Oh, mother, dear, I am left alone,
She is a girl from the U.S.A.

That day I said we would married be Says she, "Will you buy the ring",
I will just give you the money
And that's the very same thing.

So my love she is gone, she is gone
away.

I heard Tom Evans say;
Oh, mother, dear, I am left alone,
She is a girl from the U.S.A.

Ten dollars then I spent on her
In the form of a ring;
But what a fight I got that night,
When she sent back the same thing.

So my love she is gone, she is gone
away.

I heard Tom Evans say;
Oh, mother, dear, I am left alone,
She is a girl from the U.S.A.

It is not the money I care about,
But the way I was taken in;
For when I go out the boys all shout,
"Oh! she sent back your ring."
So my love she is gone, she is gone
away.

I heard Tom Evans say;
Oh, mother, dear, I am left alone,
She is a girl from the U.S.A.

There is grief in store and jokes galore,
Going through our social band,
I'll just tell you I did not get
That American's little hand.

So my love she is gone, she is gone
away.

I heard Tom Evans say;
Oh, mother, dear, I am left alone,
She is a girl from the U.S.A.

But if I could get my last, last wish,
I would like to be a man;
So that I could get the hand I love
Of that little wee American.

So my love she is gone, she is gone
away.

I heard Tom Evans say;
Oh, mother, dear, I am left alone,
She is a girl from U.S.A.

THE BLOCK

A STRAIGHT TALK

The following hot shot is from the Kootenaiian, published at Kaslo, B. C., and as The Call man was the publisher of the Kootenaiian for a year or more, but grew "weary" some eight years ago, we can sympathise with the present proprietors:

"You will note, dear reader, that the size of the Kootenaiian has been reduced this week to six columns. We expect to hear a chorus of terrific howls from everybody, particularly from non-subscribers but we do not care a continental whoop about those.

"The reason we reduced the size of the paper may be summed up as follows: Lack of local advertising patronage or in other words a few of the firms doing business in this town are not doing their share towards keeping up a local paper. Half of the merchants and hotels doing business in Kaslo have treated us as a joke, the other half have treated us as a nuisance. They have been very unbusinesslike about putting us on the back for our efforts in turning out a live local paper, but when it came to buying advertising space they would crawl under the table and whine about hard times. One or two had their job printing done by a cheap print shop and then inconsistently asked us to "boost" those Kasloites who sent out for Christmas presents. The sooner merchants doing business in this town on such "take-it-or-leave-it" method are starved out by the lack of patronage, the better it will be for the community. As a rule their policy appears to be to put in on every line of business taken up by the older established stores and when they realize their inability to capture the trade, commence so-called slaughter sales, interfering with legitimate trade and making nothing themselves on account of overcasts.

"So we have brought down the size of Kaslo's leading excitement. If those doing business here who are not now advertising in the sheet, would like to see her up to seven, let them come around with a promise to take so much advertising per year, pay their bills in cash, and then we'll be glad to honor her back to the standard size. It will look just that much better for the town.

If you are a friend of Kaslo's and interested in its welfare, you can tell who the public-spirited are in this burg by glancing over the columns of the Kootenaiian. A little investigation will also convince you that they are the people who are doing the business.

"That this is the case is not in the least surprising. During the past year the Kootenaiian's circulation has been tried. It has been circulated freely from one end of the continent to the other for the advertising of Kaslo and its resources. Kaslo will soon reap immense benefit from what we are now sowing and you will not be entitled to share in the benefits if you do not help pay there for. You do your share and we'll do ours. Upon what Kaslo does for us in 1908 depends whether the town will have an 8 page 7 column paper, a 4 page 7 column paper, a 6 column, a 5 column paper or no paper at all.

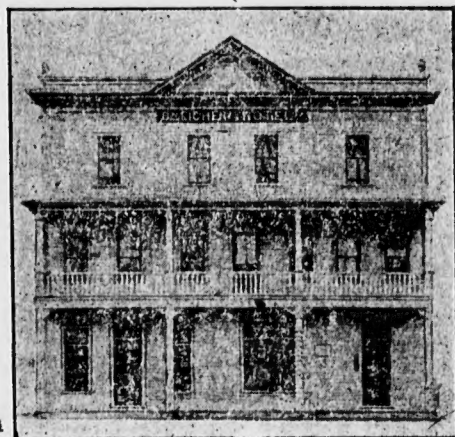

"Oh no, we are not grouching or whining. Business with us is just as good as ever and in the job printing line shows a marked increase from month to month. But it takes collateral to run a newspaper and it takes time and money to boost for Kaslo. Incidentally it may be remarked that the present proprietors of the Kootenaiian are not stocking type for health, pasture or philanthropy."

Kaslo is the town where the famed Col. R. F. Lowery, after printing two papers in "blue" ink with all the unpaid ads turned up side down, buried in paper with a large tombstone on the front page and this loving inscription: "Sacred to the memory of The Kaslo Claim, died of starvation at the hands of the citizens of Kaslo." Copies of this last issue are said to be worth $5 each now.

The Herald says, "Let every property owner and every householder do his utmost this spring to enhance the beauty of Cranbrook by the planting of trees and shrubs about their home," and Gleichen will do well to follow this good advice.

The regular meetings of the Gleichen and District Board of Trade are held the second Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. The next meeting takes place on March 10th.

V. J. Beaupre, Gleichen's first resident, paid a visit to Calgary last week and says he noted many improvements in that city since his last visit. While there a fire alarm was turned in and he says that the alarm from the siren was terrific and would wake the dead. He hopes that when Gleichen gets a fire of that kind he will be under the ground six feet. However his friends hope differently and believe he will live to hear the sound he dreads in the town he has watched grow since the foundation of the first building was laid.

Mr. James at his birthday party

When your name is printed on a label and appears on a copy of The Call it is a sign you are considered a subscriber to this paper, and not before. If you have paid your subscription and your name is not printed kindly notify us.

The other day The Call was told that a certain Gleichen merchant not only sent away for some job printing but actually canvassed other stores to give him their printing to send away. Of consistency then art, indeed, a Jew! One storeman informed the hawker that he had not noticed any eastern people sending him any business so he would have his printing done in town. This is the first printing sent out of town since The Call's birthday that we have heard of that we could print. And it is the first time we ever heard of a merchant canvassing for printing to send out of town and we have been around print shops ever since we could walk. Our idea was that Gleichen was a printers' happy-hunting-ground—but great Scott, Betty, and six hands round, surely this report is but a dream.

The Call job department is replete in every particular and turns out first-class work. Send along your letterheads, billheads, envelopes, business cards, etc., and we will give you good work at reasonable prices.

LAKE,

The DENTIST

CF CALGARY,

$12.50 about Half the Regular Price.

$12.50 about Half the Regular Price.

The plate that I am offering for $12.50 is one of the best values I have ever given the public. The teeth are the best possible to secure, the rubber a pure, strong maroon product, fully warranted to me, and without doubt the best I could buy. Really if I was charging twice the amount I could not turn out a better article. They are made to fit, and the arrangement and color of the teeth produce a natural and ascetic appearance.

Crown and Bridge-Work.

Placing the price of Crown and Bridge-Work at $5.00 a tooth puts this work within the reach of every person who is in need of such. No person ever went out of my office with this work in their mouth who later came back dissatisfied. The reason of this is that the right kind of bridging is always done in my office. I have been doing bridging and crowning for a number of years, have a natural skill for mechanics, and have all the necessary appliances for perfect work. When one has these possibilities within their hand, good results are as easy as poor. All the work is guaranteed.

The good people of Gleichen have demonstrated that they will patronize a good Dentist. I am glad, flattered with the patronage given me last Saturday, and would be delighted if I could honestly promise to give as good satisfaction in an office there as I can in the big home office. There is a limit to good, quick and reliable work in a small office, and I have made my prices so as to attract people from the district to my office in Calgary. I never have promised what I could not perform, and I am not going to start at this time in life.

It Will Pay You Better to Come to Calgary.

If you have a big bill of work to be done you can be sure that if the facilities are perfect the work can be done quicker and cheaper than possible in a small office. The standard of work must be maintained. I would not hedge on that, and am selling my time. You can glean the inference. Whatever work I can do in Gleichen as well as I can do it in the big office I will be glad to attempt, but I would urge that whenever the bill is run over four hours work that the people come to Calgary.

For the future immediately before us I will carry out my program, after that I am going to try to induce you to come into the big office.
